Join the Agro Food Park Career Day and learn about your opportunities for a future in one of Denmark's most fascinating and internationally oriented businesses!

And no, you don't need to be a food scientist or nutritional expert to be part of this business. Food and agriculture companies need employees within a wide range of fields. There is a need for engineers, business developers, accountants, communicators, marketers. Basically anything that you can think of in a company!

More than 30 companies will participate with booths, presentations and Q&As.
